QACPS ANNOUNCES NEW CHURCH HILL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL PRINCIPAL FOR THE 2020-2021 SCHOOL YEAR

CENTREVILLE, MD – Today, Queen Anne’s County Public Schools (QACPS) Superintendent Dr. Andrea M. Kane announced the promotion of program supervisor, Susan Walbert, to serve as principal of Church Hill Elementary School for the 2020-2021 school year. She oversaw the Title I, Title III, PreK-2 Reading, and Migrant Education programs since 2017, and has experience as an elementary school teacher and counselor.

“We are fortunate to have talented and experienced educators, like Ms. Walbert, ready to lead schools and support children regardless of the challenges ahead,” Dr. Kane said. “She has the instructional leadership capacity to ensure that Church Hill Elementary is a safe, healthy learning environment where students can grow and achieve at high academic levels.”

Ms. Walbert began her career as a third-grade teacher at Kennard Elementary School. During her 14 years at Kennard Elementary, she worked in the roles of special education teacher/IEP chairperson, school counselor, and teacher specialist. She also taught at Sudlersville Elementary School, where she was a teacher specialist and lead-teacher of the Migrant Education Program. She served as a teacher specialist at Sudlersville Middle School.
